In the office, out and about or at home, you choose the device; mobile, business phones, tablets or computer softphone

- Take your office with you as you move around. You're in contact wherever there is internet, bringing your phone, video and contacts with you on the device of your choice
- Plug in a headset and free your hands to turn your PC into an all-in-one communication system allowing you to work on your computer whilst on the phone or in conference

✓ Use your computer or tablet as a phone and for video conferences

✓ Collaborate with video, voice and sharing on any device

✓ No need to carry a personal and business mobile handset

✓ Never miss a call, all devices can ring at once or only the ones you choose

✓ The same number and contacts across all devices

Feature Rich - Voice

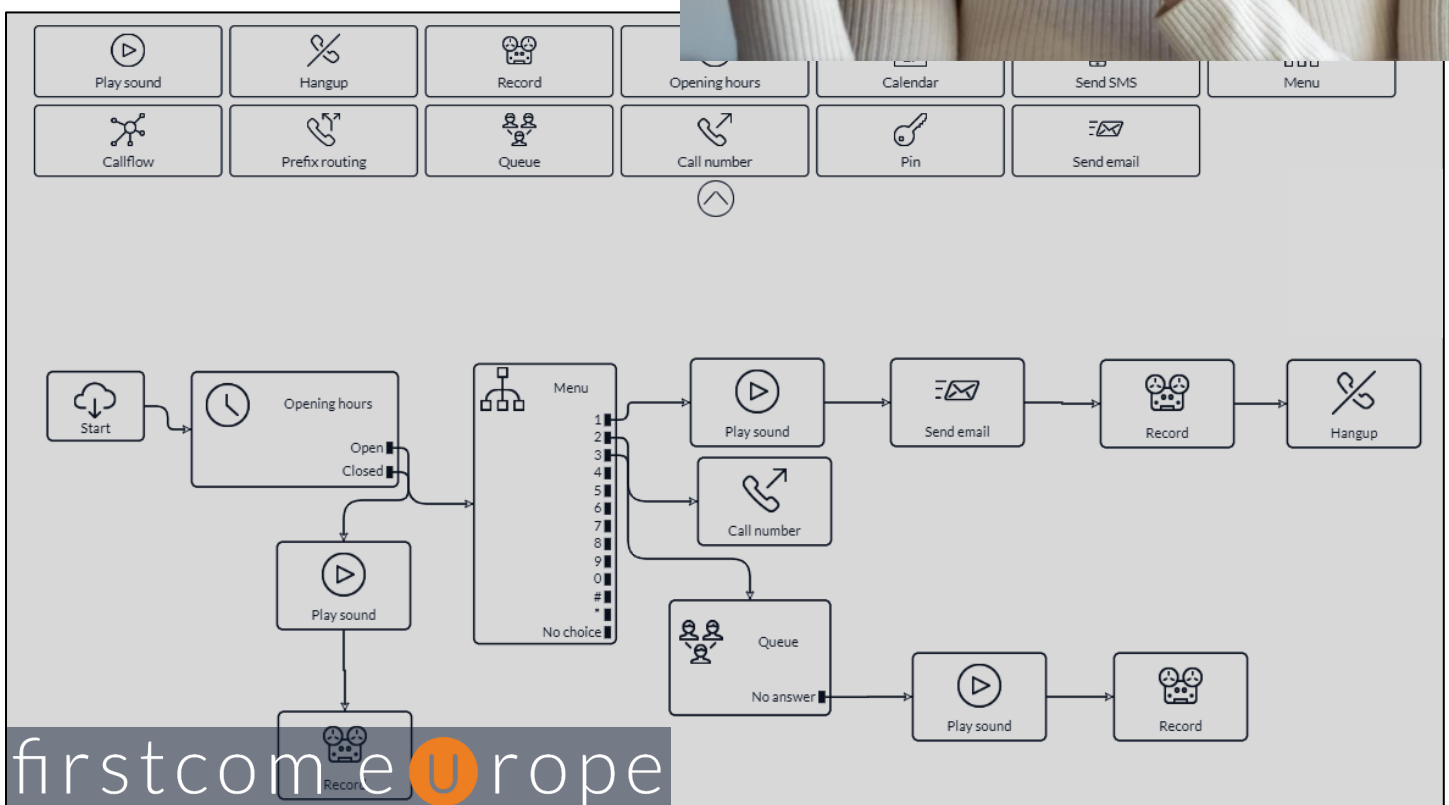

Our Universe solution has many advanced features that significantly improve business productivity

Call Handling

Each of your Universe devices has the following functions;

- Transfer calls without an announcement or;
- Announce the call to the end party
- Make an audio conference call of three or more people

Universe has an IVR (interactive voice response) service allowing you to direct calls to where they can be dealt with effectively within your company. It is programmed simply by using a drag and drop interface. No need to call a technician, quickly design your own call flows.
